City of McAllen Statement Regarding Employees on Self-Quarantine

McAllen City Manager Roel “Roy” Rodriguez, P.E. has requested that two employees self-quarantine for two weeks in their home as a safety precaution.

The two employees traveled abroad recently and arrived in McAllen today, Friday, March 13, 2020.

The employees went directly from the airport to their home.

The two employees feel fine and do not demonstrate any symptoms of illness.

However, consistent with state-recommended protocol, the City of McAllen has decided to take this action.

Again, there is no reason to believe at this point that the employees have had any contact with any potential threat.

City Manager Rodriguez and the Deputy Emergency Manager Jeff Johnston have communicated this to the Hidalgo County Health Chief Administrative Officer Eddie Olivares and all have concurred with this action.
